

Parent Resources while Working and Learning at Home - # 3

Educational websites that will engage your children and actually let you work for an hour (or two!)

	Cool Math for Kids	14 math games, plus lessons and quizzes, manipulatives, and brain teasers, will keep your kids entertained AND learning, while you get some much needed work time. (And it's totally FREE!)
	ABC Mouse	Perfect for kids ages 2-7, this full online curriculum covers reading, math, science, and arts & colors. There are over 9,000 activities, and kids could play for hours. They are offering a FREE 30 day trial. Make sure to cancel before the free trial ends if you do not want to pay the subscription price.
	Ted Talks for Kids	With talks like "Underwater Astonishments" and "The Promise of Truth & Lies", this list of Ted Talks has been especially approved for kids. Let them watch one after the other while you get some work done! You'll be doing them a favor.
	25 Ways to Learn at Home with Lego	Lego is a fun building toy and a great learning resource. Building a set straight out of the box is great for encouraging kids to learn to follow a sequence of instructions. Lego is also valuable as a resource for a whole range of learning activities - everything from writing to spelling, math to science, social studies to art.
