5. MindShift KQED-Samples from this site:

- Incorporating quick-to-prepare, visually appealing learning maps in your unit planning simplifies the process while increasing its effectiveness. In addition learning maps can guide co-planning between content teachers and language specialists. @TanKHuynh <http://ow.ly/b16U50CHc1S>
- Students whose grades are lowest are both the students who stopped coming to class entirely and those who have simply fallen very far behind. In either case, teachers are scrambling to figure out what to do about the many missing assignments. @Chalkbeat
The empty gradebook: As students struggle with remote learning, teachers grapple with Fs
More students are failing classes. But teachers say they've tried to keep an even larger number from falling off track. chalkbeat.org
